

Finding God in the Natural World: A Spiritual Revolution

April 14, 21, 28 and May 5

9:15-10:15, Room 33

"Attentiveness to the question, "Where is God?" takes us on a journey into the spiritual geography of our own lives and finding God in nature and neighbor. An original eco-spirituality with a call toward caring for both the earth and the commons." -Author's Website

Please join us for any or all of this four-week exploration of nature as God's first sacred text. Participants will be invited into a deeper understanding of God through nature.

Three weeks will be a group discussion facilitated by Judith Cambell and inspired by the ideas from Diana Butler Bass' book Grounded: Finding God in the World - A Spiritual Revolution. One week we will participate in the presentation by Rev. Emily Carroll, Northern Field Director for Green the Church, an organization working to expand the role of African American churches as centers for environmental and economic justice.

Reading the book ahead of time would be helpful but is not required for participation. All are welcome. Those wishing to purchase the book, can find copies for sale at the church office or other book sellers.

Registration is preferred, but drop-ins are welcome. This class will be available via Zoom using OWL technology for those who are pre-registered.
